APPLE SEEDLINGS.

The apple seedlings we offer below are being grown in the famous Kaw Valley of Kansas. "Kaw Valley" stands for good apple seedlings wherever apple trees are grown. No valley in the U. S. has a deeper or richer soil; the climate is ideal for the growing of apple seedlings.

Our battery of cultivators keeps down the weeds and maintains a constant dust mulch. The insects and diseases haven't a chance against our relentless high-pressure spraying.

Not a seedling is dug until the blocks are thoroughly matured. Apple growers will appreciate the importance of this precaution. The grading is done by experienced men. You can depend upon every bunch being up to grade.

We have been growing apple seedlings for 35 years so we know how.

APPLE SCIONS

Ready for delivery about December 1, 1924. These scions are tied in bunches of 250 and we would like to have orders made up in multiples of that number. Scions have made an unusually good growth this summer so that they will cut out more than the average number of grafts.
